These two conditions are not mutually exclusive. For example, a person may be both a member of the American Medical Association and a member of the American Dental Association. In this case, the person would be a member of both organizations. However, if a person is a member of the American Medical Association but not a member of the American Dental Association, then the person would not be a member of both organizations. This is because the person is not a member of the American Dental Association.
