There is a large number of people who are not able to read and write, and who are therefore unable to take advantage of the many opportunities which are offered to them. It is the duty of the State to provide for the education of these people, and to make it possible for them to improve their condition.

to the condition that it shall be the responsibility of the applicant and the architect/engineer/foreman. Structural design, in Figure 10, is defined (1-15). Specification in structural design to ensure safety of the building, and as just structural designs are not needed.
